Invitation to participate in the European ALARA Network seminar

Dear EAN-members and colleagues,

I hereby invite you to participate in the European ALARA Network seminar to be held at the Chateau de Montvillargenne, 1st -3rd June 2014, in order to elaborate the ALARA network 2015-2020 strategic agenda.

The European ALARA network is preparing its third five year term as an organisation devoted to the promotion of the ALARA principle, optimising the exposure for workers, patients and the public in all radiation exposure situations.

As laid down in the terms and conditions of our organisation we perform every five year an assessment of our achievements and identify the elements of the work program for the next five years, taking into account past experiences and current and future evolutions in the radiation protection community.

In a two day seminar we will review the previous strategic agenda, evaluate the results and discuss the operation of the organisation in order to streamline the future work of the network and consolidate and improve its recognition as an expert organisation in the promotion of the practical application of optimisation. The work of the two day seminar will culminate in the drafting of the strategic Agenda for 2015-2020.

It is clear that your participation and insights as a member of the EAN will shape the future of our organisation and network, your participation to the two day seminar is therefore vital to its success.

Further detail on the venue and the agenda of the seminar can be found in annex to this mailing.

I look forward to seeing you at the European ALARA Network seminar in Chateau de Montvillargenne to shape the future of the ALARA network.

Dr. F. Vermeersch
Chairperson of the European ALARA Network
